Would You Rather?

Would You Rather?

This is a game where they have to vote on which choice they would make. Challenge the teacher to how well they know their class. Before each vote they have to write down which answer they think the majority of the class will choose.

So ask each question, e.g. 'Would you rather eat ice cream or chocolate?' Let the teacher write down their answer and then get the children to put their hand up for each option. Count the votes. See if the teacher got it right.
