Scenarios to help us understand what it means to be trustworthy

1. A boy comes home from school to see a bag of sweets lying on his kitchen table. He asks his dad if he can have one. His dad says he can have one.

The boy really loves the sweets. He'd really like more than one. His dad is out side in the garden and can't see him. The boy takes 3.

When his dad comes back in he asks the boy how many sweets he had. He says 1!

2. A girl is rushing to get ready for school. Her mum is getting cross because they might be late. The girl brushes her teeth but doesn't wash her face so she can be ready quicker.

Just as they're about to leave the mum asks 'Have you brushed your teeth and washed your face?'

The girls pauses and then says 'I didn't wash my face'.

3. A friend whispers a secret to a girl. The friend tells her that she's having a sleepover next week but only two people will be invited. She asks the girl not to tell anyone, it's a secret. The girl agrees to keep the secret.

Next day at break the girl plays with a different friend. As she's playing she tells the different friend the secret. Soon everyone in the class knows and is asking to be invited to the sleepover.
